

Weed Me Begins Onboarding Medical Clients

With a new license granted and a complete Patient Care Team in place, Weed Me now sells directly to patients.

Toronto, ON - As of [Date], when Weed Me obtained its license to sell cannabis directly to patients with prescriptions from their physicians, this leading cannabis producer is currently in the process of actively registering medical clients. Fast and hassle-free, now patients can purchase all Weed Me products including plants, clones, seedlings, auto-flowering seeds, flowers and pre-rolls. Weed Me has over 100 genetic strains to offer along with exclusive Canadian distribution rights to grow and sell the infamous Dutch Passion genetics.

"We're happy to have acquired this most recent license because it enables us to help more Canadians find the relief they need to achieve a better quality of life free of pain," says Benny Presman, Weed Me's Founder and Chief Commercial Officer. "With our new ability to sell directly to patients, we shorten the sales cycle and get our product into people's hands faster."

Medical clients can register quickly and easily online. Through careful user analyses and advanced web technologies, Weed Me makes a complicated process simple. In minutes, medical clients can register themselves and gain full access to all the necessary forms required to legally purchase cannabis for medical use.

Dr. Sev is Weed Me's Chief Medical Doctor responsible for leading the Patient Care Team. Under his guidance, Weed Me's Patient Care Team works closely with each medical client to assist with registrations, correctly identify and understand patient ailments, and then provide the ideal treatment plans and cannabis products to achieve the best results.

"A big part of my role here at Weed Me is speaking with, educating, informing and working collaboratively with new physicians," says Dr. Sev. "Whether they lack knowledge about how cannabis can help their patients or they require a greater understanding of dosing and using cannabis as a form of treatment, I adopt a responsible, critically evaluated information approach. I am always happy to provide guidance and assistance where needed to help medical professionals overcome the obstacles they face since the emergence of mainstream cannabis.”

Weed Me looks forward to growing its medical client database in the days and months ahead so it can play a larger role in the cannabis marketplace.
